Z. Mills,

it is the result. They loathe the War on Mexico and desire no acquisition of Territory by Conquest. They are opposed to a National Debt, and in favor of paying as we go. Above all, they are sternly resolved to battle to the last against any Extension of Human Slavery under the flag of our Union. And that they are straight out, unequivocally, unqualifiedly, in favor of HENRY CLAY for next President in preference to any other living man, the world well knows. Scarcely a Whig Convention ifested. And their victory is more decisive, their majority larger, than at any State Election of the last six years. Honor to the faithful Whigs of Connecticut! Great Meeeting of the Press in Washington to Hympathize with France.

Correspondence of The Tribune.
WASHINGTON, Monday, April 3.

One of the largest and most enthusiastic meet ings ever held in this city, has just dispersed a Odd Fellows' Hall. It was convened in pursuance of a call signed by almost all the editors, lette writers, and reporters at present in the federal city. inviting their brethren to unite with them in giving suitable expression to their sympathy with the peo ple of France in their present effort to establish republic on the basis of " Liberty, Equality and Fraternity."

At 8 o'clock the Chair was taken by Mayor SEATON. A long list of Vice-Presidents and Secre taries, embracing the names of Amos KENDALL, ISAAC HILL, THOMAS RITCHIE, E. KINGMAN, to the meeting and approved of by acclamation.

A Committee, consisting of Dr. Houston, Messri PREVOST, KINGMAN, FITNAM and G. B. WALLIN

His Honor, the President of the meeting, ros and, in a few eloquent remarks, expressed his con dial sympathy with the object of the meeting, as took occasion to say that his friend and partne Mr. Gates, would also have attended, but his pra tice was not to attend meetings in the evening.

The Committee then reported, through the Chairman, Dr. Houston, the following resolutions:

Resolved, That we regard with deep sympathy the sublime effort of the people of France to establish a Republic upon the basis of "Liberty, Equality, and Fraternity."

Resolved, That in this movement thus far, we recognize the spirit and principles that gave birth to the free institutions of our own Republic, which, while furnishing an impressive lesson to the world of the benefits of popular Government, must derive additional stability from the triumph of popular Government in other lands, seeking the good of all by the establisament of justice.

Resolved, That in the moderation displayed by the French People in the hour of trial—no more force being used than was necessary to the resumption of their inherent rights—in their self-control in the hour of triumph; in their respect for the rights of private property; in the prompt recognition in the Provisional Government of the rights of Labor; in the absence of all vindictive sentiments, evinced in the abolition of Capital Punishment for Political Offences; and in its nobly pacific spirit breathed toward other nations while asserting for each nation the right to manage its own affairs without foreign intervention, we find strong grounds of hope that the Revolution will continue to be distinguished by moderatien, wisdom and humanity.

Resolved, That we trust in the All-Wise Enler of med. That we trust in the All-Wise Ruler of as bus to crown with success the heroic struggles of the hopte of the Old World to establish as a Fact the great uith that Civil Government derives its just powers from a consent of the governed, and should be controlled by eir will in obedience to the principle of equal and exact structure to the principle of equal and exact structure to all these.

rill in obedience to the principle of equal and to all men.

ofted, That the Press, as the great agency in difintelligence, establishing sound principles, conceng public sentiment and facilitating the application of force, is the right arm of the People—the power that makes revolutions reformations.

Resolved. That despottem, whether it leave the Press record of attempt to enslave it, cannot long withstand its inducence; if it fall upon the Press it shall be broken; if the Press fall upon it, it shall be ground to powder!

M. M. Noah was then introduced to the meeting and was received with warm applause. He said that he had been very unexpectedly called upon to participate in the meeting-he was a stranger in Washington and had arrived only on the morning of that day. But he gladly embraced the opportunity of expressing his sympathy with the great Li movement to the French people. He had received an intimation from an old friend connected with the Provisional Government that it was intended to copy closely the model of the great American Republic. It was to be hoped that the design would be carried out. The division of France into sovereign States, each with its local Legislature, and the removal of the seat of the Federal Government.

removal of the seat of the Federal Government a Paria to some less populous city, would afford of the best guarantees of the stability of the the substitution of the word "confidence" in ad of "hops." He felt assured that the people France would triumphantly schieve their per-t liberty. ERASTUS BROOKS then, in a strain of glowing eloquerce, spoke of the movement in France as characterized by moderation and humanity. It was not a spirit of vengeance which actuated the people of France. It was the great principle of brotherhood "which animated the movement—that principle announced by the Universal Father in the declaration that he had "made of one blood all the nations of the earth."

in the deciaration that he had "made of one blood all the nations of the earth."

Mr. RITCHIE next addressed the meeting. He spoke of the former Revolutions in France, and their failure. He expressed confidence in the present. He culogized the President in sending his Message to-day, and took occasion to denounce those members of the House who had hailed the emancipation of the Slaves in the French Colonies, as having been suitty of insult to the South!

cipation of the Slaves in the French Colonies, wing been guilty of insult to the South!

Housens after adverting to the pleasing to the members of the press of all parties on this ion, wenton to speak of the grounds of confision, wenton to speak of the grounds of confision, wenton to speak of the grounds of confision, wenton to speak of the members of Provisional Government, men of high intellist and great integrity, yet he did not repose his in them alone. He trusted in the great prints which were at the foundation of the movesthe recognition of the grand principle of moral and intellectual culture, of progress in knowledge, of health, comfort and happiness; and that no human being was to be allowed to periah, but through his own fault.

Mr. W. E. Rouissos next spoke in his usual strain of blended homes.

Mr. W. E. Robinson next spoke in his usual strain of blended humor, eloquence and pathos. He described the wrongs and sufferings of Ireland, and the claims which she possessed on the sympathy of America. In every battle-field in this Republic, from Quebec, where Montgomery poured out his life's blood to cement the fabric of the Revolution, down to Cerro Gordo, where Gen. Shields was killed, and afterward fought at Churabusco and Chapultepec, the sons of the Green Isle had freely sacrificed life and everything that made life dear at the shrine of liberty. He spoke of the ties of brotherhood existing between France and the United States, and showed that the latter was bound by every obligation of honor and gratitude to extend to France in this, her day of trial and struggle, the hand of fellowship, and if need be, more substantial aid.

In Democratic Whig General Committee.

Noble Connecticut:

The Whig triumph in CONNECTICUT is emphatically a verdict for Principles. The Whigs of that State have fought the battle manfully on the broad est Whig grounds. They are unequivocally for the Protection of Home Labor. They are for a liberal policy with regard to River and Harbor Improvements. They are hostile to the Sub-Treasury and the suspicious, repulsive, do-nothing policy of which it is the result. They loaths the War on Mexico.

Altogether this was a glorious meeting-marred Altogether this was a glorious meeting—marred only by Mr. Ritchie's silly, but characteristic effort to give it a partisan character. The speeches were forcible, eloquent and effective. The Press showed itself worthy of its high mission, and windy demagogues in both branches of Congress might well profit by this practical, common-sense, intelligent expression of sentiment and opinion on the part of letter-writers and reporters. I am, &c. Graph.

The expense incurred by the City for the public reception of President Polk, last Summer, was out $5,000. The reception was such as was due to the Chief Magistrate of the Nation, and was creditable to the City Governmet. The reception and all the expense atline the visit of Mr. Clay, who was invited to the City by the Common Council, by the unanimous vote of both but it cost the City but about $1,500.

A resolution was offered in the Board of Aldermen sometime since requesting the Controller to re-port the amount of appropriations made by the former one. This report will probably be made in a day or two. It will show that the present Whig Common Council have paid thousands of old debts, and on contracts made by their predecessors. Still these sums appear as though they were expended by the present Board.

THE SIXTEENTH WARD .- We are happy to learn that the difficulties in this Ward-are pretty much settled. Washington Shith is renominated for Alalso amicably arranged. There is no truer Whig than ion of the grand principle of Alderman Smith; and now that he consents again to sacri-ice to all men, and of the great fice his time to attend to City business, we trust he will refice his time to attend to City business, we trust he will re-ceive the hearty support of the Whigs of the Ward.

Whig Triumph in Massachusetts—Herace
Mann Elected by 1,300 Majority:
From the Boston Atlas of yestarday.
We received last night by our various Expresses, the returns from all the towns in the Eighth District but one—Holliston. The result is glorious. Horace Mans, the Whig candidate, has in all the towns but Holliston, a majority over Loco-Foocism. Libertyism and Scattering, of 1,344!
Holliston is as likely to increase it as to diminish it. In no event will Mr. Mann's majority fall below 1,300. Here are the figures. We compare with the vote for Governor, last Fall, when Gov. Briggs had a clear majority of 445:

Six: I have received no communication from the War Department or the Adjusant Georal's Office since my last report. (No. 44.) dated the 3d inst. but slips from newspapers and letters from Washinaton have come to interested parties, representing, I learn, that the President has determined to place me before a Court for daring to enforce necessary discipline in this army against certain of its high officers. I make only a passing comment upon these unofficial announcements; learning, with pleasure, through the same sources that I am to be superseded by Major-General Butler. Perhaps after trial. I may be permitted to return to the United States. My poor services with this most gallant army are at length to be required as have long been led to expect they would be. I have the honor to remain, with high respect. Sir. your obedient servant.

PENNSYLVANIA.-The Whig Conferees from the various Counties of the X1ffth Congressional District met at Muncy, Lycoming Co. on Thursday last, and nominated DAVID TAGGART as Delegate to the National Convention. The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Delegate this day elected to represent this Congressional District in the National Convention, to be held in Philadelphia on the 7th of June, 1848, be in-structed to support the nomination of Haway Clay, of Kentucky, as the candidate of the Whig party for the Presidency.

Resolved, That in case Mr. Clay declines a nomination, that the Delegate just elected be instructed to support Gen. Taylor as our second choice—provided he will give autifactory evidence to the Convention that he is sound in the Whig faith, and will carry out the principles of the great Whig party.

An attack was made upon the town of Ozuluama by a considerable force of Indiana but they were repulsed by the inhabitants with considerable gallantry. We find an account of the skirmish in El Noticioso of the 18th, from which we glean the following particulars:

The village of Ozuluama was attacked on the morning of the 11th inst. by a party of revolted Indians, numbering 330 men, of whom 180 were armed with guns, and the balance with bows and arrows and small arms. They commenced the attack at 3 o'clock in the morning, and fought until 35 or 6 o'clock, when they field in diamay, leaving one dead and two wounded upon the field.—Their exact loss cannot be ascertained, but from appearances it must have been heavy. Ozuluama was defended by 43 men, who deserve the greatest credit for their valor. Although the number of defenders have since been increased, it is to be hoped that Col. Gates, who has always expressed himself favorably toward Ozuluama and other places threatened by the revolvers, will, now that friendly relations are referablished between Mexico and the United States, fornish the necessary assistance, according to Article No 16 of the armistice, published in Mexico on the 6th inst.

THE WASHINGTON MONUMENT.—Of Mr. Wallace's plan for this Monument, Mr. BRYANT, in a recent Evening Peat, holds the following language:

"Mr. Wallace's design is striking, and in many respects original. The capitals of the columns, formed of Malze and Palmetto leaves, are as beautiful as the Corinthian, and the introduction of the Globe among monumental forms is a nobie and grand idea."

During the past week the banks have discounted to a fair extent to their regular customers, but all their wants are not supplied, and a considerable amount of good business paper still finds its way into the street at extra interest. At Philadelphia confidence is gradually strengthening in the money market, and banks and capitalists are relaxing somewhat their rigid hold on money. The street demand is not so great, and the rate demanded for the use of money for first-class securities is lighter. At St. Louis the money market continues easy, and but little difficulty is experienced in negotiating bills on the East at a fair.
